MARRIAGE

Genesis 2:24

Ephesians 5:21-33

Proverbs 31

1 Timothy 3:1-12

Titus 1:5-9

Notes:

We only regard those unions as real examples of love and real marriages in which a fixed and unalterable decision has been taken. If men or women contemplate an escape, they do not collect all their powers for the task. In none of the serious and important tasks of life do we arrange such a "getaway." We cannot love and be limited.

—Alfred Adler

Success in marriage does not come merely through finding the right mate, but through being the right mate.

—Barnett R. Brickner

In a time when nothing is more certain than change, the commitment of two people to one another has become difficult and rare. Yet, by its scarcity, the beauty and value of this exchange have only been enhanced.

—Robert Sexton

If you made a list of the reasons why any couple got married, and another list of the reasons for their divorce, you'd have a hell of a lot of overlapping.

—Mignon M.cLaughlin

Almost no one is foolish enough to imagine that he automatically deserves great success in any field of activity; yet almost everyone believes that he automatically deserves success in marriage.

—Sydney J. Harris

A happy /marriage is the union of two good forgivers.

—Ruth Bell Graham

Marriage must constantly fight against a monster which devours everything: routine.

—Honore de Balzac
